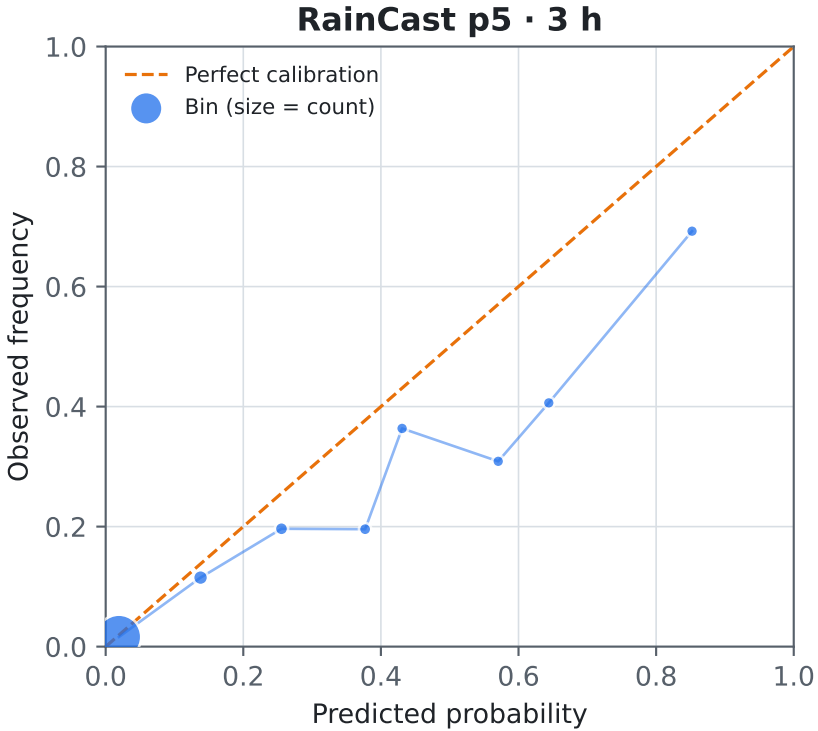
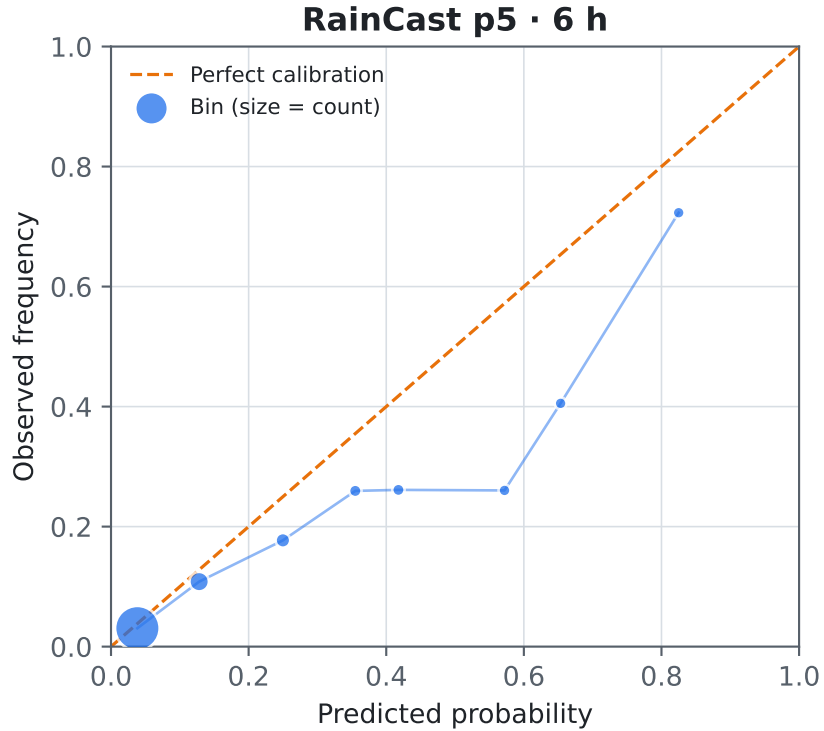
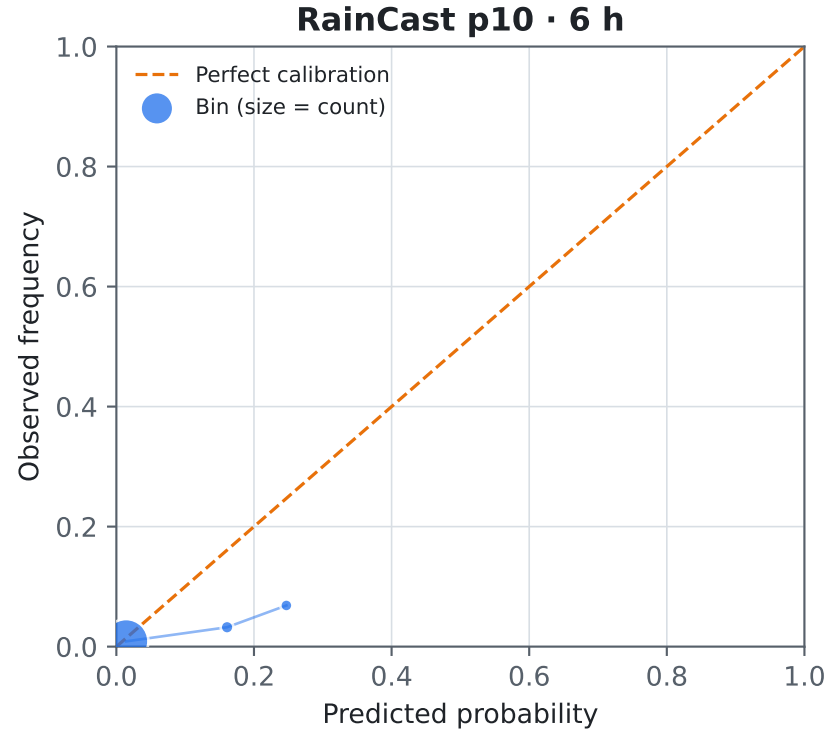
Calibration — when PRAVAAH says 30 %, does it happen 30 % of the time?







Isotonic regression fitted on the VALIDATION split only, then applied unchanged to test. Points below the diagonal are over-confident. The largest bins sit near the diagonal; the sparse high-probability bins are noisy because few rows land there.